It is permitted to enroll simultaneously in a Master's program and another study course offered at this or other universities, within the limits established by D.M. No. 930 of July 29, 2022.

Details on eligibility can be found at:

<https://www.unime.it/didattica/immatricolazioni-e-iscrizioni/contemporanea-iscrizione-due-corsi-di-istruzione-superiore>. If one of the two programs requires mandatory attendance, you may enroll in a second program only if it does not require attendance, except for those programs where attendance is mandatory solely for lab work or internships. In such cases, approval from the Academic Boards of both programs is required.

During the application process, each candidate must attach a self-certification regarding attendance in the first program, along with the relevant study plan.

2.3 GUIDELINES FOR INTERNATIONAL APPLICANTS

Candidates who are citizens of the European Union, or citizens of countries outside the European Union, and hold degrees from foreign universities may apply if they have an academic qualification that matches, in duration and content, the Italian degree required for admission. The qualification must meet the requirements outlined above.

RECOGNITION OF ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS

If your degree was earned abroad and has not yet been recognized, your admission will depend solely on the Evaluation Committee's assessment of your qualification for this purpose.

In this case, the applicants in question must provide supporting documents to enable the School Council to assess the eligibility request:

The application for admission must include the following documents:

- Original diploma. Applicants who are citizens of EU Member States may self-certify this;
- official Italian translation, required only if the diploma is not issued in English, French, or Spanish. Those in need may use local translators and then request certification of the translation's accuracy from the Italian consular office for their area (see <https://www.esteri.it/mae/it/servizi/italiani-all-estero/traduzione-e-legalizzazione-documenti.html>);

- Legalization, issued by the competent authority confirming the authenticity of the academic credential. Legalization is not needed if the country of issuance is a signatory to the Hague Convention (1961). In such cases, an Apostille serves as validation of the document's authenticity. Additionally, legalization is not required for diplomas granted by institutions in Belgium, Denmark, France, Ireland, Latvia (Brussels Convention 1987), Germany (Rome Convention 1969), or Austria (Vienna Convention 1975). 5 or
- Statement of value, issued locally by the Italian Consular office responsible for the area where the foreign institution granting the degree is based.

If the academic credential is issued by a country whose legislation requires legalization, Italian Embassies will provide the statement of value only after the credential has been legalized by the authorized body in that country.

The declaration of value must include the date and final degree grade, along with details on the grading system used for the academic qualification awarded abroad (including the minimum and maximum possible grades). If a conversion of the final degree grade is needed, the Examining Committee will make this determination based on the information provided by the Italian Consulate regarding the grading system and scale of the country where the degree was obtained. If the submitted documents do not provide sufficient data, the Committee will automatically assign the lowest possible grade.

The declaration of value may be replaced by the Diploma Supplement, prepared according to the European Commission's template, for academic degrees awarded by institutions in countries that are part of the European Higher Education Area.

The declaration of value can also be substituted by certifications issued by CIMEA, which serves as Italy's ENIC-NARIC center. These certifications must include all the information required for evaluating the academic qualification, as outlined in the declaration of value (<https://www.cimea.it/>).

For any matters not specifically addressed, please refer to the website: <http://www.studiare-in-italia.it/international-students>.

Community citizens, regardless of where they live, and non-community citizens who have legally resided in Italy for at least one year (pursuant to Article 39, paragraph 5 of Legislative Decree July 25, 1998, No. 286, as amended by Article 26 of Law July 30, 2002, No. 189), and who hold a degree obtained abroad, are eligible to apply under the same conditions and requirements as Italian citizens.
